Rev. T. C. Buchanan, Superintendent of Missions, and Rev. E. J. Tate, Chairman of the Lacombe District of the Methodist Church, were in Lacombe on Saturday.

During the last week, E. L. Clemens has sold lots at Manhattan Beach, Gull Lake, to M. Ellis, Mr. Scott, of Calgary; I. Ross and J. T. Cannally, of Edmonton.

Mr. Mole is drawing brick for the house to be erected on the section he recently purchased near the Canyon. He will soon have this one of the most attractive farms in the district.

Inspector Thiladeau, Mr. Williams, Principal of the Ponoka School, and Mr. Grenson, Principal of the Bawlf School, are presiding at the departmental examination here this week.

Fred McFetridge's new house on Barnett Avenue is being rapidly completed. This favorite residential part in the early days of Lacombe is still popular, and the vacant lots are becoming very scarce.

Williams Bros., whose farm is five miles west of Rimbey, are holding an auction sale of all their farm stock and implements on Thursday, July 3rd, commencing at 12 o'clock, no reserve. Jos. Marshall, auctioneer.

Mr. Bard went to Wetaskiwin on Saturday to examine the new gas well. He reports a very satisfactory flow, though the flow is not large as compared with some wells in the Province. It is creating quite a boom in the city.

There are a considerable number of pupils from the surrounding rural schools writing on the departmental examinations here this week. The eighth, ninth, and tenth grades are writing this week, and the eleventh and twelfth grades will write next week.

Paul Leonard is following up his customers. As so many of them have gone to the lake, he has taken part of his dairy herd to the Seigle farm, and from there will keep his customers supplied at their cottages with milk and cream.

Mrs. (Dr.) Sharpe entertained the members of the Lacombe Literary Society on Tuesday evening, June 17th, as a farewell to Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Locke, who are about to leave town. A delightful evening was enjoyed by all present.

On Sunday, June 23rd, the services at the Anglican Church will be conducted by the Ven. Archdeacon A. J. B. Dewdney, Lacombe, 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.; Blackfries, 3 p.m. The Rector will take the services in Red Deer that day.

Mr. John D. Franklin purchased a fine half-section of land in the Bentley district of the Stanley Bros. P. S. Lewis Agency near the lake. Mr. Franklin is from Kansas and has looked the country over very carefully before locating in this district. Mr. Franklin will go into stock farming.

J. Herb. Watt received by express a small shipment of "Cornish" day-old chicks from C. J. Wright, Sherbrooke, Quebec. Considering the distance is about 3,000 miles, it speaks for the hardness of this breed, the fact that they reached here alive. Some husky chicks, however, may be seen in his yard.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Anglican Church will hold a lawn social in aid of the church funds on Thursday evening, June 26th, at "The Bats", Barnett Avenue. It will be musical "Bach" this time, as the Lacombe orchestra will be in attendance. Ice cream, lemonade, cakes, etc., will be served.

A considerable number of people have visited Manhattan Beach during the last few days and expressed themselves as pleased with the location. A number of cottages are approaching completion, and make quite a change in the appearance. A number of sales have been made and a number more are likely to be made very soon. Some of the recent purchasers are talking of building this summer.

W. E. Tees left on Saturday for a tour of the chief western fairs with two carloads of Galloway cattle, Yorkshire hogs and Plymouth Rock and White Wyandotte chickens. He has all told over twenty entries between purchased stock and fat cattle, and will do his share to uphold the honor of Lacombe. His first fall fair will be at Lethbridge, and he will go as far east as Winnipeg, visiting all the principal fairs, ending his trip with Edmonton. He will be away about two months.

The Board of Trade circulars sent out to property owners with the annual assessment notices are bringing good results. A large number are sending in names of parties likely to come to Alberta, and Lacombe literature is being sent to those parties. Most of them will not arrive until next spring, but quite a number will come this summer. There are several buyers in town this week negotiating for farm property who came here rather than elsewhere through the efforts of the Board of Trade. Negotiations are under way to establish here a couple of industries not yet represented in Western Canada.

Rev. E. L. Scragg, who has been appointed pastor of the Methodist Church here, conducted his first services on Sunday, with good congregations, and made a splendid impression that promises well for his future work. Mr. Scragg is practically unknown in the district. He spent the years of his probation in the southern part of the Province, after which he went to Victoria College, Toronto. While in Toronto he was for two years assistant pastor of Broadway Tabernacle. Two years ago he was ordained and stationed at Innisfail, where the people would have been glad to have had him remain, but the Stationing Committee, in looking around for a good man for Lacombe, picked on him as just the man for the place. On Monday evening, after the weekly league meeting, an informal reception for Mr. and Mrs. Scragg was held. When the gathering broke up after a pleasant time spent in social intercourse and in disposing of the refreshments provided by the ladies, Mr. and Mrs. Scragg were feeling very much at home.

drove out in a body and report a most enjoyable time. The evening was spent in song and music, dancing and other amusements, and when the party had tired of the more strenuous amusements, they repaired to the bungalow of Mrs. Poole, where Mrs. Poole was made the recipient of a beautiful present, accompanied by an address. The presentation was made by L. G. Beatty, who, in a few well-chosen remarks, told of the esteem in which the late opponent and leader was held by the choir, and how sorry they were to lose her valuable services. Rev. M. White also spoke feelingly of the work Mrs. Poole had done in the church, especially in connection with the musical part of the service, and thanked her on behalf of the choir and congregation.

The present from the choir was a beautiful silver mounted toilet set, suitably engraved. There was a little excitement during the early part of the evening, while the visitors were out on the lake. Skippers Hislop and Rodgers, with their boats filled to capacity with the youth and beauty of Lacombe, were wrecked by a sudden squall, and hung up on a reef. With true British courage, however, they remained with the boats until the ladies were taken off by relief parties from the shore, and there were no casualties.

A BEAUTIFUL BABY
Gained Wonderfully After Being Put On A Well Known Food.

Mrs. E. Warner of 32 Winifred Ave., Toronto, in writing about Neave's Food, says: "I used Neave's Food for my baby and it has agreed when everything else failed. He has gained wonderfully since I started giving it to him."

Mr. A. J. Fergus, Labelle Street, Montreal, writes, under date 13 Oct: "My little daughter, born Aug. 15th, likes Neave's Food very much. She is a bunch of fat."

Mrs. J. Fallon of Whitby, Ont., says: "Neave's Food is the only food that has agreed with our little boy. He is brighter, and his flesh is firmer, since taking it."

Neave's Food has been the standard Infant's Food in Great Britain for more than 25 years.

Mothers and prospective mothers may obtain a free tin of Neave's Food and a valuable book, "Hints About Baby," by writing, Edwin Wiley, 14 Front Street East, Toronto, who is the Agent for Canada. (Enclose a postage stamp.)

Neave's Food is sold in 1 lb. air tight tins by all Druggists in Canada.

Now is the proper time to prepare for the Central Alberta Exhibition, to be held in Lacombe on October 1, 2 and 3. The prize list has been greatly enlarged and good prizes are offered in all departments and especially in the horse and cattle classes. The Association is making arrangements to look after a great number more live stock this year than ever before, and additional buildings are being erected.

On the second and third days of the fair it is the intention of the directors to have sports and other attractions.

Read the prize list on another page and decide upon what you are going to compete for. Prize lists will be issued in a few weeks.

The Fall Fair
Mrs. J. I. Poole

On the eve of her departure for Wetaskiwin, Mrs. J. I. Poole, for many years organist of the Presbyterian Church, was given a farewell party by the members of the choir on Monday evening last. Mrs. Poole is at present holidaying at Gull Lake, and the choir

Wedding Bells at Bentley

A pretty wedding took place last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hutton, of Bentley, their daughter, Bertha, being united in marriage to Mr. Ray Miles.

Rev. Locke, of Lacombe, officiated. To the opening strains of the Wedding March, played by Mrs. Portland, the bridal party entered the prettily decorated rooms where the ceremony took place. The bride was becomingly dressed in cream net, and carried a bouquet of flowers. The bridesmaid, Miss Diplock, of Montclair, cousin to the bride, wore white muslin over pale blue. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Blain Hutton. After the guests had participated in the wedding breakfast, the happy couple left for Banff, where they expect to stay several weeks. Their numerous friends wish them a long and happy married life.

SUFFERED TERRIBLY WITH HAY FEVER
Until "Fruit-a-tive" Completely Cured Me

"I was a martyr to Hay Fever for probably fifteen years and I suffered terribly at times. I consulted many physicians and took their treatment, and I tried every remedy I heard of as good for Hay Fever, but nothing did me any good. Then I tried 'Fruit-a-tive' and it cured me completely. I am now well, and I wish to say to every sufferer from Hay Fever—'Try Fruit-a-tive'! This fruit medicine cured me when every other treatment failed and I believe it is a perfect cure for this dreadful enemy."

Lacombe Must Have a Water System

There are some people in Lacombe who claim that it is impossible for Lacombe to grow any larger without a water system. We are told that until the town is larger and richer we cannot put in a water system. Hence we are somewhat like the Irishman who stated that he would not be able to get his boots on until he had worn them for a few days. But is this not meeting trouble a little more than half way? It is true we need a water system. It is true under existing conditions it would cost rather more than we can afford. But that does not prove that the thing is hopeless.

There are many conveniences and luxuries that we would like to have but cannot afford, but we will gladly pay a larger sum than the one required for a necessary article, or for a good investment. We could have a water system if we wanted it, but so many think of it only as a domestic supply, and consequently turn it down as costing too much for a luxury or a convenience, but as a necessity or an investment they would be in favor of it and support it. We would all like to have a water system, but we are not all willing to pay the price. If we can make it a paying investment instead of a bill of expense, every man in town will hold up both hands for it. Properly managed it will be a source of income and profit, and it is on this basis that it should be considered. If we consider installing such a plant we must also consider employing it in such a way as to bring in a financial return. If, while supplying our needs it also brings in a revenue, it will be a clear gain.

It is very truthfully said that we cannot get factories here without a water system. It is comparatively small plant will serve for that. A deep well or two will provide all the water needed. A stand pipe or elevated tank will supply the pressure. Such a plant to supply a few factories and afford fire protection to the main part of the town could be put in for less than twenty thousand dollars. In order to get the factories other things than water are necessary, but we do not purpose discussing them in this article. We can get the factories. But we must have the water. Once secure even a couple of good industries and the value and income of the town will be so much increased that the putting in of a water supply for domestic purposes will be a small matter.

We had better not take too large a bite of this waterworks system at once or we may choke on it. It is wiser to take it in smaller bites. A good well will cost only a few hundred dollars. An elevated tank from six to ten thousand dollars. Enough piping to supply fire protection and water for factory purposes costs no more, of course, than the factories would pay for what they use, so that money would be returned. Then the system could be extended chiefly on the basis of a frontage tax as the people desired it, and as sewer accommodation required it.

An assessment of only a little over six hundred for a town like Lacombe is simply ridiculous. It is within the power of the people of Lacombe to raise that to collect two million inside the next two years, and still have the assessment below the value of the property. Other towns with inferior opportunity are doing it, and we can do it. As a simple country centre it cannot be done. It requires the regular payroll. The working man builds the town. To build up our merchant establishments, we must have our payroll. To make work for our carpenters, our masons, our painters, we must have the workmen to house. Without industries there will be no work for these artisans. The industries are coming to Alberta today by the scores. Never in any age of any land were there so many manufacturers coming in as are coming into the Canadian West at the present day. Our chances are at least as good as others to locate them if we make preparations to receive them. We need plans perfected at once for a water system. If not for domestic purposes just for factories, a factory and fire protection purposes, and the domestic supply can easily be added.

It is time for us to discuss a water system, not as a convenience or a luxury, but as a means of increasing our means among others of increasing ourselves. We like to make money. We like to see our properties doubling in value. We have the opportunity of doing it. Water is the only thing needed, but it is one of the things. Not to get them, is to be penny wise and pound foolish. It would be wise for every man who has money invested in Lacombe real estate to consider how he may make money by putting in a things.

ALBERTA'S AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS READY TO OPEN

About the first of next November Alberta's three agricultural schools at Olds, Claresholm and Vermilion will open for instruction, thus giving this province the first agricultural school system of the kind in this country. Building from bitious students heretofore, so that the number of farm boys and girls who received technical instruction in work they are to follow on the farm during life never ran over one or two per cent of the consequence. As a result of this, the boys they were educated away from the farm, the common school courses giving them nothing in the way of farm instruction. Neither did the high school help. Doctors, lawyers, merchants, bankers and druggists receive instruction through all their grade and high school education that if they did not directly aid them towards the positions they later held, at least did not divert them from other callings by pointing a scornful finger at that calling and ignoring it altogether.

Hence we have the Alberta Agricultural Schools as a solution of this perplexing question of getting education to the farm boy at the time he wants it. Later he can go on to an agricultural college and finish the technical education if he wishes; he will have a foundation on which to build a college training. He will not drift them off to life work. The men who farm their own farms and manage farms of others in Alberta will be looked after by the Alberta Schools of Agriculture in the future. The sections of the schools about in different sections of the province gives boys an opportunity to attend without having to travel more than 200 miles, even from the most remote corner of the province. Later, as the school all up and the system is perfected, other schools will be built in the sections where most needed. These schools will become centres of agricultural training. Masters will be held and lecturing and curing demonstration. Conventions, short courses for mature farmers, household demonstration work, and farmers' gatherings of all kinds can be held at these places, making them social centres for farm life. The opening date will give farmer boys in all parts of the province a chance to attend, as farm work should be completed for the season. The newly chosen principals come highly recommended for their work. Messrs. Howes, Elliott and Stephens, the three principals to be at Vermilion, Olds and Claresholm schools, are all Ontario farm boys who have some west and had plenty of experience in this country, the two first also teaching in the United States and managing practical ventures in dairying. Mr. Elliott's work with the Canadian Pacific, with the Alberta Government Demonstration train and at the Montana Agricultural College is well known. Prof. Stephens has been faculty of the University of Idaho. Mr. Stephens has done work in Manitoba and Saskatchewan that stamps him as an educational worker of calibre. The schools are going to be ready with the best of equipment, both in teaching and buildings and live stock. It is now up to the people of Alberta to furnish the raw material for the first semester.

To Bring Consumer and Producer Closer
From a number of different parts of the country there comes the evidence that a strongly managed movement is needed to bring producer and consumer closer together. There is not a town or city in Western Canada but where the cost of living is too high, and yet at the same time there are hundreds of rural districts, not far away, where the chances of selling surplus farm products of a miscellaneous nature are very discouraging to the farmer. One of our visitors from Saskatchewan told us the other day that in his town imported bacon was being sold at 28c. per pound; yet when a farmer raised a few pigs he was glad to kill them and sell them dressed carcasses at 8c. and 10c. per pound. This was one of those rather new districts where the market facilities for getting rid of mixed farming products in a satisfactory way were not yet properly organized.

Different larger cities of the West have recognized the marked difficulties of producers and the buying difficulties of consumers, and are now getting busy to try to relieve them. In Brandon a farmers' central market has been in operation for a few months, and while so far scarcely as successful as it is hoped will become, it has yet been effective in raising strong opposition from the middlemen, which seems to us to be a very hopeful sign. A market designed to lessen the spread between producer and consumer might be expected to have appealed at the middlemen who desire a big spread were still well pleased.

Winnipeg also has the matter in hand. The Million for Manitoba League has erected a building and will open a central corner market to begin business on June 14. Stalls are rented to market gardeners and original producers of foodstuffs of any sort. Also the League will maintain a large public office of its own and will receive shipments of potatoes, butter, eggs, poultry, cheese, vegetables, etc., raised within the province, and will sell these on a commission of 5 per cent. The League has a railway switch of its own and can handle carloads of products. It, too, is meeting with opposition from Winnipeg middlemen, which shows that certain folks expect to suffer when the producer and consumer get a closer introduction.

These are always floating on the surface; they simply show what is below. These four new provinces in the Canadian West—Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia—are all in a like fix. The farmers in each one are able and willing to raise great quantities of the foodstuffs that we are now importing in great bulk from outside sources, and which are being sold in our midst at high prices. But the facilities for marketing are largely unorganized. There is a long road yet to travel. The expressing of small individual packages to a market like Calgary or any of the other big centres, even if supported afterwards by good sale and quick returns, is of questionable practicality. One of the things that is imperatively needed is community production. Many communities could not even ship potatoes by the carload lot, and so there is no fair market for them. Shipments must be gathered together on regular receiving days and sent in greater quantities. There is needed a steady, or ganizing head somewhere, and that is why we believe a good co-operative effort, government aided, is desirable.

Like our Lamb, Mutton, Veal, Pork and Poultry, they are the production of skillful and experienced stock raisers, who know that good meats cannot be furnished by poorly raised stock. What Will Lacombe be in Days to Come

The man who would build a house first forms a plan—or he will if he is a man of good judgment. He calculates what he has to build with the number of people he expects to occupy it, and the probable income he is likely to have to maintain it. But occasionally you will see a house that was never planned. It just grew. First a small house, then a wing was added, then another. Then a lean-to was built as necessity demanded, until a something impossible, but unmanageable, was produced that was costly, inconvenient and unsightly. The same things apply to towns. Some are planned. Others simply happen, and like the house the latter is a poor affair.

The citizens of Lacombe are building a town. We will plan it as though we thought we have some brains, not let it grow haphazard as though we did not care or could not help it.

In planning a house the first question is: "How large will you make it?" "How many rooms?" In planning Lacombe we ask: "How large?" "How many people do you expect to live in it?" If we are to plan wisely we must form an opinion of the probable size the town is likely to reach. Also the nature of its business. To do otherwise is to grope in the dark. Then how large is Lacombe likely to be twenty or thirty or forty years from now?

We have now in Alberta about half a million people. We have four cities with fifteen thousand people or more each. Nearly one hundred thousand people are coming into our province each year, and the number grows larger year by year. It does not take much imagination to show that in less than fifteen years we will have as many people in Alberta as there are in Ontario at the present time. But Ontario has between fifteen and twenty cities of over a thousand people each, and most of them have over fifteen thousand each. Then in fifteen years Alberta may expect to have at least an equal number of cities of equal size. When will Lacombe stand in the list?

If in fifteen years Lacombe has not fifteen thousand people it will be because Lacombe has the slowest bunch of men on earth. But we think we are a little swifter than that. We are a little slow, but we may as well admit it. It has been so easy to make money in Lacombe for the last ten years, and it has involved so little effort that we have become somewhat lazy. Easy money takes the snap out of any man. Take a merchant who has a steady business returning a good profit, and after a few years, that merchant has a little swifter than that. We are a little slow, but we may as well admit it. It has been so easy to make money in Lacombe for the last ten years, and it has involved so little effort that we have become somewhat lazy. Easy money takes the snap out of any man. Take a merchant who has a steady business returning a good profit, and after a few years, that merchant has a little swifter than that.

Long-headed men are figuring out the probable size of our population in the future. One party, after a careful calculation, declares that in twenty years Alberta will have ten million people. Another says that in thirty-five years Alberta and Saskatchewan will have thirty-five million. We are no prophets and do not know what our population will be in the future. We hardly know what it is today. But we are not so blind that we cannot see that we will have a very large population. We have one of the best agricultural countries on earth. It is almost impossible to name another place so rich in natural resources as Alberta. The indications are unmistakable. Alberta will be a great manufacturing country. Its natural resources, her natural mechanical power, her climate, her products, her geographical position all proclaim it.

In laying our foundation how large do we expect to build. We do not want to make ourselves ridiculous. People thousands of miles away see our opportunity. Let us make our foundation sure and solid. Let us also make it large. Let us be as big as the market will bear, and as big as the future will require. Many things will come without our effort, but if we go after them we will get them sooner and more of them. Let us take advantage of present opportunities.

Each act of our lives has its joys. Old people should be happy, and they will be if Chamberlain's Tablets are taken to strengthen the digestion and keep the bowels regular. These tablets are mild and gentle in their action and especially suitable for people of middle age and older. For sale by Lacombe Drug Co., Ltd. (1)

The Plain Truth

Of the reported intention of the Liberal party to roll its war chest by small contributions from individual members of the party, the Calgary Alberta says: "If campaign funds had always been raised in that fashion there would not have been any large hand-outs to railways in the form of regular subsidies. This is a true word. Members of Parliament, when great issues arise between the interests of the people and the interests of big business, too often give their real support to the latter, though they may make a pretence of serving their constituents with words."

The politician's conduct is not quite so irreconcilable as it looks. It is true he sits in Parliament by virtue of the votes of the people, whose interests he does not defend, but it is equally true that he could not have got these votes if his campaign had not been financed with funds drawn in part directly or indirectly from big business.

This does not mean, of course, that the candidate takes money from big business and with it buys the voters at so much a head, though there is a good deal of this sort of thing done too. But the ordinary legitimate expenses of a campaign in this country cost many thousands of dollars, and unless the candidate is a rich man he must get help from some outside source. He gets it usually from the party campaign fund, which is replenished in part by contributions from large "patrons" which regard them as profitable investments, since this ensures them influence in Parliament.

A member of Parliament, elected under the conditions just confronted, with an interesting problem when a matter comes up in which the interests of his constituents conflict with those of contributors to the party fund. If he is a high-minded man he does his duty and pays the shot. But the average member of Parliament is unconsciously like the rest of humanity. His personal wish is to do the right thing, but he regards self preservation as the first law of nature.

Therefore he keeps open his line of communication with the commissariat department, and tries to "square himself" with his constituents by various devices. Grandiloquent guff about the grand old party and its peerless principles will always hold eighty per cent. of his following, and the rest can be bewitched if there is money enough.

The electors of the constituency are betrayed, no doubt, but they are not contributory parties to the betrayal. Out of the 221 constituencies in the Dominion, how many actually send representatives to Ottawa? The procedure in the cases where they do live up to their opportunities is plain and simple. The electors with a common political inclination meet in convention, pick that man amongst them best fitted to represent their views and convictions; put him in the field; organize for his support, and meet his incidental expenses out of their own pockets. A man sent to Ottawa under these auspices will stand up against selfish interests and party pressure; or, if he fails, his treason is measurable.

But as matters usually are, the electors in convention merely give their consent to the candidature of some man who wants to be in Parliament on the understanding that he is to "make the money" to secure the necessary workers and supply the required amount of cash, either out of his own trousers pocket or from some less apparent source. Many of these men who actually meet in convention to nominate him will expect to get at least $20 from the candidate if they stay in the list in the next year, and haul a few dollars to vote. Is it any wonder that a man who gets into Parliament by these means, feels a very slight sense of duty towards his constituents? He has bought and paid for the privilege of representing them; why should he not use it for his own personal advantage?

The low state of political morality in Canada is due to many causes. The public must bear their share of the responsibility, so must the big interests of Canada with their persistent campaigns for privilege, but the chief responsibility rests upon the electors of this country. To the elector, ignorant at the willingness of Parliament to do the bidding of big interests and eloquent in denunciation of the weakness of his own representative, are can justly point the finger of reproach and say "Thus art the man!"

POLITICS.

"Beware of politics, my boy. To earn your daily bread. Pay better 'tis to dig a ditch. Or, if you had instead. Than be a public servant now," The weissenheimer said.

"The ax will fall, the ax will fall. As sure as you're alive; Some one who musters thirty votes."

To your poor twenty-five Will get your job, no matter how Industriously you strive."

"Suppose I serve the public well And give the best I've got; And then suppose in time of war, I've faced the shell and shot? The weissenheimer sneered and said: "That's sentimental rot."

"The civil service," spoke the boy, "My job will guarantee. At which the weissenheimer laughed, "Forget it, boys," said he, "This civil service talk is bunk; Take it direct from me."

"Go drive a goose's wagon or Pour tar between the bricks; Select most any trade you choose."

And worry from eight to six, But give the laugh to those Who hire A man for politics."

WESTERN HOLSTEINS

Thomson, Holstein, Sask., has one head, that is, qualified with semi-official record. The Colony Farm seven-day records are as follows: In the mature class, Sena J. 2nd gave 604.4 lbs. milk and 19.85 lbs. fat. In junior four-year-olds, Wedmanville Cansy leads the list with 644.6 lbs. milk and 25.11 lbs. fat, followed by Lakeside Model Veeman De Kol with 488.9 lbs. milk and 16.45 lbs. fat. A Colony Farm cow also leads the list of senior three-year-olds, Lakeside Model Pauline winning with 534.8 lbs. milk and 19.43 lbs. fat. The junior three-year-old class contains the name of Homestead De Kol Colantha with 458.7 lbs. milk and 16.45 lbs. fat, also a Colony Farm cow.

B. H. Thomson's cow with a semi-official record is a two-year-old, Mutual Friend Frontier Nicole. In 366 days she produced 10,872 lbs. milk and 313.15 lbs. fat, which made 391.44 lbs. of butter 80 per cent. fat.

Southern Circus Here July 10th

E. Hagg, proprietor of the Mighty Hag Shows, which exhibit in Lacombe on Thursday, July 10, considers the Circus King to be the Mason and Dixon line, has decided in his sixteenth transcontinental tour to come north of the Mason and Dixon line, being the first time the big southern circus has ever been out of its own territory. The invasion will be watched by jealous eyes by the northern kings of circuses, and a big novelty is in store for the northern people, as they will have a chance to see the "southern" as he really and truly is in all phases of his life, as the show is managed, directed, owned and all departments are people of southern origin. There will be real southern beauties riding the big Kentucky-bred horses, the southern colts will be in evidence, with his wide-brimmed white hat, together with the "yes sah" that has made the southern famous. Mr. Hagg also claims to have the finest sixteen-head of Kentucky mules, which are world-wide renowned, and will be of great interest to horsemen of this section. Taking it all in all, a great treat is in store for the public wherever the Mighty Hag Shows exhibit.

LOOKS LIKE FREE WHEAT AND CATTLE

Washington, June 16.—The much-expected agricultural schedule of the Underwood tariff bill was suddenly upset again by the majority members of the Senate finance committee late today, when a motion was made to reconsider action taken earlier in the day approving the free listing of live stock and wheat subject to a counter-vailing duty. The proposal now is to strike out the provision for a counter-vailing duty and have cattle, sheep and horses and wheat on the free list unrestricted. Members of the committee said tonight that this probably would be done by the majority. The House put meats and flour on the free list, leaving live stock and grains dutiable at 10 per cent. ad valorem and live a bushel respectively.

PAYING THE PIPERS

Some newspapers are expressing pleasure that our legislators without dipping into the public treasury for an increased indemnity. There was a plan on foot, they say, to increase the allowance from $2,500 to $4,000. Three-fourths of the members would be well paid if $2,500 was a year's salary instead of a mere indemnity for a session which never lasts more than seven months.

How much more to the point it would be if, instead of increasing their indemnity, the members would get down to work, cut out the foolish speech making and get through the session in two or three months!

TWO GIRLS ARE DROWNED IN BOW RIVER AT BANFF.

Banff Springs Hotel, June 19.—Misses Eva Vallint and Lily Sanderson, both of Montreal, employed as store girls at the Banff Springs Hotel, Banff, were drowned here this evening. A party of five boys and two girls built a raft at the foot of the Bow Falls to take a pleasure trip down the Bow with a current running 10 miles an hour.

The current being so strong, they lost control of the raft, and just below the falls it struck a big city, nearly to which is a log jam. Just as they struck the eddy the raft capsize and the two girls and a man named Bond were thrown in. The girls were drowned in the log jam and were never seen again. Bond caught a floating log, and floated a mile down before reaching shore. Those on the raft were Lennan, Bond, Graham, Wand and Schultz, of whom all were saved.

A search party was at once organized and two boats went as far down as Camrose, but in vain. Loggers from Eau Claire sawmills are on the way to Banff to search for the two girls.

VANCOUVER BANK CLERK
MYSTERY CLEARED UP.

Vancouver, June 19.—The mystery of the disappearance of the young bank clerk, J. McLennan, who disappeared last March, was cleared up last evening by the finding of the body in False Creek, near Dunlevy avenue, in this city. At the time of his disappearance it was surmised that he had gone to Seattle, and the statement was positively made that he had been seen in the southern city. No definite confirmation, however, could be obtained and the search for the time was abandoned by his friends.

While engaged in working at a dam at a bend in the creek last evening workmen noticed the body floating in the water, out of which there was no outlet. A search of the clothing brought to light a latter addressed Jack McLennan, Merchants' Bank, Vancouver, and a number of blank checks belonging to that bank. The features are, of course, in an advanced stage of decomposition, but all the indications point to the fact that it is the body of young McLennan. The deceased was at one time in the employ of the bank in Vancouver, and was transferred to the Vancouver bank some time ago.

P.E.I. BANISHES AUTO.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., June 19.—A plebiscite on the automobile question was taken throughout the island Tuesday by means of annual district school meetings. Returns so far show farmers very strongly opposed to allowing automobiles to run under any conditions. About 90 per cent. of the districts voted against the bill passed at last session of the legislature, but held up pending the plebiscite. The government is not likely to put the measure into effect. At many meetings every man voted against it.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED.

North Battleford, Sask., June 19.—At the inquest yesterday on E. S. Bishop, of Battleford, who met his death Tuesday evening in an auto accident, his counsel calling 70 feet down an embankment, the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, adding a rider regarding the dangerous road. Much sympathy is felt for Mrs. Bishop, the widow, who has been seen at a view down east and is expected home this evening.

SYDNEY HOSPITAL BURNS.

Sifton Will Retire;
Cross for Premier?

The rumor is current that the resignation of Premier Sifton is now a matter of months and that he will go to London with a large salary to act as the representative of Alberta, while Hon. C. W. Cross becomes premier. The reason given for the alleged change is the difference of opinion between Messrs. Cross and Sifton over the A.

& G. W. affair. The two are diametrically opposed on this proposition. No matter what course is adopted, one or the other will have "to eat crow." Cross still wields the balance of power in the legislature and it is reported that Premier Sifton is ready to step down provided that the honorarium that goes with the London appointment is sufficiently alluring.

The election for members of the first village council was held in Lundy's hall on Monday last and passed off without the occurrence of anything of an exciting nature. The apparent absence of canvassing could not be taken as a lack of interest on the part of the candidates or electors as every available vote was polled. There were six candidates in the field and the result of the poll was as follows:—Geo. Cayan, 115; H. L. Gaez, 122; W. J. Kirby, 112; A. Lind, 114; J. L. Standish, 107; W. C. Strong, 121.

The first accident in connection with the construction of the large bridge over the Saskatchewan occurred about 11 o'clock on Monday morning, by which Angus McPherson, a recent arrival from Prince Edward Island, lost his life, and C. McIntosh narrowly escaped death. At the time of the accident the men were engaged in the construction of false work and were suspended in mid air when in some way the rope slipped and both men dropped to the river, a distance of about 40 feet. It is thought that McPherson "was either killed or rendered insensible in the fall, as he was seen a few seconds later some distance down the stream and did not seem to be making any effort to save himself. McIntosh was stunned and unconsciously took to swimming, reaching the shore with the assistance of the current.

Alix News

A meeting was held in council chamber on Saturday evening to take up the matter of supporting a baseball team. E. A. Tate occupied the chair and opened proceedings by explaining the object of the meeting and outlining different schemes for the maintenance of a team. He drew the attention of the meeting to the challenge from Red Deer for the beaver trophy and also stated that Clive and other local organizations wished to try conclusions with Alix. After considerable discussion the matter was put before the meeting, who unanimously agreed to support a baseball team in Alix. S. Cruickshank was selected manager and E. A. Tate secretary. Regular practices will be held and schedule of games will be drafted out at an early date.

In a case which was heard before Justice Lees on Friday last, the defendant, Cundiff, was accused of impounding plaintiff's cattle which had broken into his crop. Plaintiff was house of defendant to demand cattle, when a quarrel arose and defendant assaulted plaintiff. Since recently Cundiff and his hired man had fired at Bald's cattle to drive them away from a strawstack on Cundiff's land. The statement of claim against defendant consisted of three counts: (1) Claim for damages for shrinkage in cattle during time they were impounded; (2) assault; (3) shooting at cattle. A number of witnesses appeared for both parties. The judge found that in as much as defendant had no legal fence around his land he had no legal right to have impounded the cattle, and was therefore wrong in law, but also found that said cattle had suffered no damage and allowed damages of $1.00. He found that shooting was unlawful and there was no reasonable evidence that cattle had been damaged and allowed plaintiff $1.00 damages. The judge said he looked upon the assault more seriously and allowed plaintiff $50 damages, and in all gave the plaintiff judgment for $52 and costs of the action.

Castor News

G. L. Schupson, formerly junior clerk of the Royal Bank, "chickadee" of Castor on Saturday evening on a "razor" Arabian, prior to his departure to Vancouver, where he will in future administer the financial affairs of that western centre of commerce.

The delightful rains of Saturday last had the effect of putting everybody in a good humor with themselves and with everyone else, and if the weather men will only smother their reservoirs about every second day for the balance of this month and the large end of July, the prosperity of everyone around here will be assured—natural gas or not.

A heavy rainstorm, attended by violent electric disturbances, struck Coronation last night, resulting in a restaurant and the Merchants' Bank being struck by lightning. Fortunately the fires were suppressed in their incipient stages, and no serious losses are reported.

A. A. Woodie, of Hanna, spent Sunday and Monday last in Castor renewing old acquaintances. A. A. Woodie has secured the contract of supplying beef to the C.N.R. along a short line, and states that he needs 75 head of cattle at once, and has considerable difficulty in obtaining first-class beef cattle. This is a good chance for some of the local cattlemen to market their stock.

A rumour which took place at Halkirk on May 19th, between P. O. Duke and Albert A. Gibson, involving a string of lawyers, a doctor, some picture postcards, a farmer's wagon and a long-standing account, three farmers, a woman and two magistrates, was heard at the R.N.W.M.P. barracks on Friday evening last, with the result that for the privilege of getting in the first lick in a fist encounter between the above P. O. Duke will be out of pocket in the neighborhood of $100.

The inspector of brands tells us that Mr. Groff shipped to New Westminster on Monday last a carload of steers fed by Messrs. Saywell Bros. of the Hand Hills, the average weight being at least 1,400. He also tells us these were the best cattle that have been shipped from here for some time.

The nucleus of a black fox ranch has been established at Tofield by the purchase by J. H. Kennedy of seven black fox pups from S. Bentley for the sum of $18,000. Mr. Bentley, who has been connected with the black fox industry for many years, arrived in Edmonton last week with the seven pups, which he had brought with him for 500 miles, by rail and water, from the Loon river district, north of Wabasca lake.

With the directors of the Camrose Natural Gas Company meeting on two occasions this week, it begins to look as if the shareholders may expect something tangible on the gas proposition very shortly. The first meeting, in the offices of Mr. Francois Adam, on Tuesday, was to consider the tender of G. Northwest Drilling Co., which tender was for drilling to a depth of 1,200 feet at $10 per foot with the local company to bear the cost of the casing. It was decided to wire the company with a view to closing a contract in case both parties could agree on the specifications.

THE FRIEDMAN "CURE"
CONDEMNED IN BERLIN
BY THE FACULTY.

Professional jealousy frequently plays an important part in condemning any new medical discovery. Some of the most eminent members of the faculty in Berlin have now come out publicly and adversely to Dr. Friedman and his alleged "cure" for tuberculosis. They not only allege that the serum is not curative, but that it is provocative, in cases of tuberculosis which have been under scientific supervision. There can be no doubt that, apart from the virtue or otherwise of the "cure," Dr. Friedman created an adverse opinion against himself when he exploited his German invention for American greenbacks. His hasty departure from Berlin for the United States, his refusal to permit others to use and experiment with his serum, and the hurry that he displayed in converting his unproved discovery into hard cash, have been prominent features in creating a prejudice against him, which would not have been so pronounced or persistent in its criticism of his matter and methods even had his cure proved worthless. He acted more openly. He would not have been the first medical discoverer to fail in his work; he would have received credit for having acted in good faith, and his lack of success would have passed out of memory. His self-concentration created suspicion, and his commercialism scaled it. It may be that his serum may prove effective in some cases, but the public would do well not to place any reliance upon his "cure" until it has proved to be that which its discoverer claims for it, though it might also be just to Dr. Friedman not to condemn him and his "cure" until there has been more time to ascertain the results of tests already applied. It is better to be merciful than merciless, unless Dr. Friedman is a medical charlatan, and that we should hope he is not.

Will Lacombe Drill for Natural Gas?

Medicine Hat was the first place in Alberta to drill for gas. The town let a contract a number of years ago for drilling a well one thousand feet deep to test whether the indications of gas at the Hat, as well as in most other places in the province, meant anything. The well was put down the thousand feet, and the contract was completed, the work ceased. The mayor of the town ventured to instruct the contractors to go a little further, though he was really exceeding his powers, and fifteen feet further down a large flow of gas was struck.

That venture meant for Medicine Hat that instead of being a dead town of about two thousand people, it is an exceedingly lively city of about fifteen thousand, with a great future before it.

Many other places have drilled since then, with varying success. At and near Calgary enough has been found to encourage them to keep on trying, but so far no great flow has been reached. At other places in the south of the Province good wells have been struck, notably at Bow Island, where there are a number of wells yielding from four to twenty seven million feet each per day. Those at the Hat, and there are a considerable number of them, vary from two to four million feet.

Years ago the government drilled a well at Pelican Rapids on the Athabasca, and struck a large flow. Another well near Victoria on the Saskatchewan was a failure. A number were tried around Edmonton, but no wells with a large flow are yet in operation there. There are several wells north and west of Edmonton that have a fair flow.

The next attempt was at Telford, east of Edmonton, where a year ago a well giving a flow of two million feet was put down, but owing to mismanagement the well was ruined by water. It proved that there was there, but so far no great benefit has been reaped. A second well a little less than a mile from the first failed to find any quantity of gas. A third well, being put down at a short distance to the other side of the first one, Vegreville then tried it and recently secured a well yielding one hundred and seventy-five thousand feet per day. Another began drilling last fall, but untoward events delayed work, but the well is now down over a thousand feet and proceeding nicely. Two or three years ago Wetaskiwin let a contract to a party who worked at hard but failed to get a satisfactory hole. Recently it was taken out of his hands and given to the Northwest Drilling Company, who had drilled a large proportion of the wells mentioned above, who started at a depth of seven hundred feet and put it down to thirteen hundred and seventy-seven feet, passing through four gas-bearing strata, each giving a larger flow than the last. The present flow is a little over a million and a half feet per day. It has been so far proven that gas is to be found over most of Alberta, but there are spots where there is none. The only way to find out where it exists is to drill a hole. One town is as likely to get it as another. It is speculation. So far the indications are that about three out of four succeed. If a good flow is secured the returns are far more than a thousand dollars for each dollar invested.

From the levels at which other towns have reached it, gas, if found at Lacombe, would probably be reached at from sixteen to seventeen hundred feet. It would cost approximately fifteen thousand dollars. In the hands of competent drillers it would be completed before fall.

There are two ways of doing it. One a company at its own expense. In the first case the company takes all the risk and in case of success takes all the profit. In the second case the town assumes the risk, and in case of success owns the gas and can sell it very cheaply to its citizens and use it as an inducement to manufacturers to locate in the town. Medicine Hat sells gas for domestic purposes for fifteen cents per thousand feet, less ten per cent. for cash. To manufacturers it is given free for five years, and then at five cents per thousand feet. On these prices in 1911 the gas brought in a net revenue of over forty-four thousand dollars.

There are a number of people in Lacombe who would like to see a well drilled here. What is the use of talking about it, if a public meeting were called and the matter fully discussed, we would find out where we stand. Then the council could submit a plan to the ratepayers to find whether they wish the town to do it, or that a franchise should be given to a company. But if anything is to be done it should be done at once. A well this summer would mean immeasurably more to the town than a well next summer.

BEYOND HUMAN AID. TWO BOYS GO TO DEATH

Niagara Falls, N. Y., June 23.—Donald Roscoe, ten years old, and Hubert Moore, nine years old, both of Niagara Falls, went to their death in a small boat late this afternoon in the whirlpool rapids, while hundreds of men watched helplessly from the shore. The boys had been playing in a flat bottomed row near the lower station of the Hydraulic Power Company, half a mile above the rapids. The rope holding the boat broke and they were carried into the stream and down the river.

Up to the time the boat reached mid-stream it made little progress. After it passed the bridge the current carried it rapidly toward the rapids. The bridgemen did not see the boat until it was close at hand. When they caught sight of it they called fire headquarters and Chief Miller sent out two companies of firemen.

Hundreds swarmed to the river banks in a vain effort to save the boys. The boys, realizing their fate, stood up as the boat neared the edge of the roaring whirlpool and shook hands good bye. A second later they were engulfed by the crest of a great wave in the rapids. The boat shot out of sight. One of the boys was seen a moment later struggling in the rushing waters.

"Study better farming methods, and keep out of politics," is the advice given to the organized farmers by those interested who control Canada. So long as the farmers keep out of politics so long they will see the government donating the resources of the country to the grasping few and the taxes on the farmers will be increased to pay the bill.

The U. F. A. Should be a Great Power

Farmers have frequently attempted to organize for mutual benefit, and in most cases the organization has done good, but too much was attempted, or else party politics worked in, and the movement died for a time, only to revive under another name. None of them, at least in this country, has ever lived as long or done as much as the U. F. A. This accomplished work, and grown strong, but has arrived at a critical point in its career. It is facing tremendous problems, and during the next few years the disadvantages under which the farmers have been laboring or break up the U. F. A. It will need to be handled wisely and its work carefully considered, as there is danger ahead. It is like a steamship, with great power and speed sailing on unknown seas, full of rocks. If it goes full speed ahead it will come to grief. It needs to go, slowly and keep a good lookout for rocks.

To go into something now and fail or lose money would be in the danger of wrecking the Union. Farmers would do well to give more attention to selling than to laying. To save two cents a pound in buying twine would be a great saving. To get two cents a bushel more for a whole grain crop would be a still greater one. There are many things the farmer produces for which he does not get over half a price, and some for which he gets no regular market. We will give but one or two examples. Potatoes, turnips, etc., can be grown more cheaply here than anywhere else. The local farmer can not be sure of a market for them at all. Still they are important every year. The U. F. A. can secure for the United Alberta farmer a market that would return a million dollars a year. But the connection between grower and consumer must be established. There are many other articles in a similar way. The U. F. A. is already working on the proposition and will undoubtedly accomplish great things in the near future.

Another dangerous rock in the channel is party politics. When the politicians wish to keep the farmers quiet where they may do something, they get them quarrelling about something else. As an example, they did not want them to take any part in the recent Alberta election, so they got them quarrelling over the Naval question. It is certain that the naval bill did not concern the farmer any more than it does others, but it kept their attention off other things. Then another favorite weapon is the present time. It makes very little difference to the farmer which side prevails, but when they get after something practical the politicians can get them to drop it and shout for protection or free trade at any time. The U. F. A. should not keep out of politics. They should get right into them. But they should confine themselves to those things that affect the farmer chiefly, and not undertake too many things at once. The U. F. A. can not turn out one party and put in the other, but it can break itself to pieces trying. But at the present time it can effect any reasonable reform it undertakes. The work, however, must not be done at the U. F. A. but at the party conventions. Practically every farmer is either a Conservative or a Liberal. If they will they may control their party instead of allowing their party to control them. If, at the present time, when there is no election in sight, the various Unions throughout the country will unite on certain reforms that they will demand, and agree to support only men whom they can trust to carry them out, then the members of each party use all their influence in their party to secure such candidates as they can trust, at the next election they will find both parties in the hands of those reforms. The mistake is to wait until the candidate is chosen and then ask his promise. What is a case of promise or be defeated, most men will promise more than they will perform. Hence a say in the selection of the man. It is much easier to control the convention than to control the election. The great want to control the convention, but the U. F. A. is stronger than the grafters. It will use its strength to turn down the grafters.

Farmers should not feel any antagonism to merchants, manufacturers, or financiers. Their interests may differ, but they are not enemies. Farmers should do all they can to help themselves, but nothing to hurt the other fellow. It sometimes happens that a member of the U. F. A. is voting to put through some deal, thinks more of the harm he will do the merchant, than of the good he will do himself. That is not just. The great business of the U. F. A. is to fight against the one else. If this distinction is kept in mind it will do much to keep the Union out of foolish things.

The columns of The Western Globe are open to the U. F. A. Unions for the discussion of questions of interest to the farmers.

U. S. IS LOSING IN SETTLERS TO CANADA. $123,682,000 ANNUAL. LY.

Washington, June 23.—The emigration of American farmers is a menace to the country. Speaker Clark declares modification of the land laws and extension of home-lands are the only remedy. Much is said nowadays, he said by statesmen, editors and preachers, touching the evils of the large immigration to this country, but very little is said—no nearly enough—of the large emigration. It is high time more attention is being paid to the influence of emigration on our future.

"In one week not long since, 1,845 American farmers with $388,500 in cash and $140,000 effects, crossed into Western Canada to settle permanently. That week was below rather than above the weekly average of emigrants to that region."

"Multiply the $2,378,500 by 52, and we have the grand annual total of loss to the Republic of $123,682,000 gone to Canada alone. We should have sense enough to find a remedy for this continued and increased loss of good citizens."

BURGLARS BREAK INTO COLD STORAGE WAREHOUSE

On Thursday night last the cold storage warehouse of the F. L. Smith Co. was broken into, the marauders gaining entrance through a window. When employees of the company visited the building on Friday morning they discovered a number of cases of liquor scattered around, and on making a tour of the place they found that a quantity of bottled goods had been stolen. The thieves had used rather good judgment, and had picked out a good brand—King's League—taking a case and a half of this greatest of joy bringers.

The police were at once notified, and it was not long before they were on the trail of the guilty parties. Suspecting that they had gone south, Blackfalds was communicated with, and Constable Miller learned that two suspicious characters had passed through that burg about noon, headed for Red Deer. Miller at once proceeded to Red Deer and found when he got there that the suspects were already safely behind the bars, charged with selling liquor without a license.

It appears that the thieves had commandeered more liquor than they could conveniently dispose of themselves, and the thought struck them that the citizens of Red Deer might be persuaded to invest in some of the surplus if the price was low enough. They canvassed several citizens, one of whom notified the police and a trap was laid. A bartender at one of the hotels was deputized to make a deal with one of the suspects, by which he was to become the owner of a dozen bottles of the pride of Scotland at a price that the local wholesale could not touch, despite the local freight rate from Lacombe to the Baby City. The deal was made with one of the suspects, E. Montgomery, and the point of delivery was decided on. The bartender repaired to the spot agreed upon, but took a couple of policemen with him, and when Montgomery arrived with the consignment of liquid hilarity he was pinched.

His companion, a man named Lee, was also gathered in, and when our constable arrived on the scene both men were safely behind the bars. They were brought up on a charge of selling liquor without a license, and Montgomery drew a penalty of two months, while Lee was dismissed on the same charge but held by the police on a charge of burglary.

The two men were brought to Lacombe on Tuesday afternoon and have been sent up on a charge of burglary. A more serious charge, that of horse stealing, could have been laid against these men, they having taken a team from Garner's barn, telling the proprietor that they were going out to Gull Lake, but Mr. Garner thinks that there is enough against them now to hold them for a while, and will not prosecute.

Montgomery is known around Lacombe, having lived here about three months. His young wife and baby are also here, and are in destitute circumstances. Lee is a stranger.

The men say they did not rob the cold storage, and that they found the booze near Blackfalds, cached in a clump of bushes.

Sixteen full bottles of liquor were recovered, and are now in the custody of Constable Miller. As Constable Miller is a strong advocate of temperance, we consider the stuff is perfectly safe with him, and will be in shape to be put in as exhibit "A" at the trial.

OUR VANISHING PASTURE LANDS

Slowly but surely the breaking plow is conquering the pasture lands of Western Canada. Particularly is this true in western parts of Saskatchewan and Southern Alberta, where not long ago cattle and sheep grazed in very large numbers. This same thing is also true of other comparatively large districts in the west, which were left for grazing purposes until the adjacent waste-cultivated sections were all occupied by incoming settlers.

This very rapid influx of settlers has resulted in a decided reduction of stock on the range, a depletion which few can realize who have not got in direct touch with the ranchers and have not seen existing conditions.

In many places the situation presently rather a more serious state of affairs than is evident on the surface. There is an increasing desire on the part of farmers to get into stock raising, but the stock cannot be bought at any price. It is not in the country. This means that it must be raised on the farm, which cannot be done without pasture.

Where is the pasture to be had? It cannot be denied that permanent grass pasture will be difficult to establish in many districts, and were it not for the much-despised brome grass where would we be in this regard? The solution, in our thinking, lies in the utilization of a variety of special forage crops together with the best pasture grasses that can be grown. For instance, fall rye will be extensively used as a crop for late fall and early spring pasture, rape sown at different periods will fill in as a short-period pasture crop and summer-fallows will be thinly sown to oats and barley after early summer cultivation. Alfalfa will be largely depended upon as a hay for stable feeding, while timothy and rye grass, or mixtures of these, will readily grow on lower, damper lands, and will also withstand drought on higher ground. Corn will also be grown more generally and roots will be found as a part of the rotation on the average mixed farm. The process of summer feeding livestock will be a vexing problem in many of the districts with limited rainfall, and the time to prepare for future necessities is the present.

TO INVESTIGATE ALBERTA'S COAL SEAMS.

Dr. Francis Lewis, Professor of Biology in the University of Alberta, has been awarded a grant by the government grant committee of the Royal Society, London, in aid of the scientific expenses of an investigation of the coal seams and lignite deposits of the Province of Alberta, with special reference to the fossil fauna. Visits will be made to all the chief deposits of coal and lignite in the province, and Dr. Lewis will be extremely glad if managers of mines and others would send him any information of nodules from the coal seams or mine roofs with any specimens which may show signs of plant structure. This would greatly facilitate the choice of the most favorable localities for work. The specimens, after investigation and determination, will go to form a representative collection for the university museum.

RED DEER, THE BABY CITY WILL HAVE A GREAT DAY ON JULY 1ST.

The bill-of-fare provided for the citizens of Red Deer and surrounding district, by the sports committee will be away ahead of anything that has been done previously in this line. There will be something doing all the time. Parade, headed by the Citizens' Band, will start at 9 a.m. The Gun Club shoot, for which some of the best men in the Dominion have entered, will also start at the same time. STANDARD OIL CO. HAS EYES ON ALBERTA

An interview with H. H. Clarke, of Kansas City, relative to the Standard Oil Company endeavoring to obtain control of all the likely oil claims in the province, has attracted considerable comment throughout Alberta. Local surveyors and others, who are thoroughly conversant with the oil situation in Alberta, state that they were thoroughly alive to the impending invasion of the Alberta oil fields by the big trust.

The majority of them concurred with the statements made by Mr. Clarke, and some even went further and said that every oil borer in this province was, though often unwittingly, a tool in the hands of the big trust.

These oil buyers, they stated, the moment it was rumored around that oil was about to be struck, were approached by representatives of the Standard Oil Company, who wormed out of the men information as to the progress that was being made and the likelihood there was of oil being struck. In this manner John D. Rockefeller kept himself posted, and it was acknowledged that he knows every move that is being made in the supposed oil fields of this province. In fact, it is stated that he is more thoroughly conversant with oil conditions here than any man in the world. Unknown to save a few, agents of the big company are in every likely looking oil district in the province and regular reports are sent in to headquarters.

Said A. P. Patrick, a well-known land surveyor of Calgary:

"There is no doubt in the world but that John D. Rockefeller is thoroughly conversant with the oil situation in this province and that if he only wished it, oil would be discovered. In my opinion, he gets the greater part of his information from the borer. These men are the ones who naturally know first of all whether or not there is a prospect of striking oil. They are also in position to strike oil and cap the flow up without informing even their employers of the fact."

"I am of the opinion that this has been done on several occasions. In fact, I know personally of one case where oil was discovered. It spouted three feet high and a barrel was filled in 15 minutes. Some few days after water was run into the well and it was abandoned. Even the tools were not recovered and they are probably there yet. It can only be surmised by whose orders, or why, this happened."

"That oil exists in Alberta there can be no question, for it has been discovered at Windy

Point, but there is evidently someone who is directing the affairs of the borer and dictating the course which they shall take.

"The Standard Oil Company has plenty of oil on hand just now to supply the world's market, but the wells in Pennsylvania and the east are yielding less and less oil every year, and it seems to me that it is imperative on the part of the Standard Oil Company to exploit new districts."

"In my opinion the big combine has had its eyes on Alberta for many years. When the combine has obtained control in this province, oil will probably be discovered in great quantities."

It has been alleged, time after time, in different districts of the States, that the Standard Oil Company has suppressed the discovery of oil until it has acquired practically all the available claims. But this has never been proven. In California, however, when oil was discovered, it was considered a strange coincidence that within a few days many oil springs were in operation. Later it was discovered that all the oil fields were controlled by the big combine. In Texas also the same strange occurrence was reported.

The question that is bothering those in touch with the oil proposition in this province is: "Will it also happen in Alberta?"

MORE LIVE STOCK.

There are in the west a number of men with their ear to the ground, listening for the tramp of the feet of the marching armies of coming events. A number of this type of man are in the live stock industry and they say that Alberta and the west is due to become in time the greatest exporting centre for packed meats, etc., in Canada.

This is not natural. The west has been over a live stock country, for it is peculiarly adapted to the raising of cattle and other animals. The soil is rich, producing succulent grasses upon which stock fattens quickly. In the old days Alberta was wholly a stock country, but in the natural course of evolution it became a wheat-raising country. Changes are still going on and in time the west will be a mixed farming country and every farmer on his section of land will be raising stock for export. In that day to come, Alberta will truly come into her own, for when a country becomes a mixed-farming country, things tend to settle down into a prosperous round of wheat on one field one year, stock grazing on the same field the next, some other crop the next year and so on.

With every farmer raising a certain number of cattle and a certain number of hogs, as every farmer will be doing in a few years—and there will be a great many more farmers then—Alberta will be in a position to export many thousands of tons more meat than in the palmiest days of the free range, for the raising of stock will then have become scientific whereas the free range system was one of waste and chance.

Even now Alberta is exporting a fair quantity of meats yearly and several packing districts are flourishing in the west.

In the old days the west was entirely a ranching country and nothing but live stock was produced. Then came the discovery that wheat could be raised here and the farmer drove the rancher from the range and the range became a wheat field. Then for years and years the consumption of meat far exceeded the production and the strange phenomenon of meat, such as hams and bacon, being shipped into the west for consumption was witnessed.

But recently the pendulum of evolution began to swing in another direction and now the west is on the way to regaining the lost prestige as a great meat exporter, and in a few years enough meat will be produced to satisfy home demands and enough left over to satisfy the call from places far and beyond.
